THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Hon. B. H. Hill, of Georgia, has arrived in Washington to see the President.

Blind Tom is considered the best paying card that has appeared in Philadelphia.

Mr. W. W. Story, the American sculptor, has been selected to make the statue of George Peabody, to be erected in London.

The receipts from customs, from the first to the fifth of October, at the principal ports, were $2,402,877.

McCoole sent his challenge to Coburn, Friday, and forwarded one thousand dollars as a deposit, by express, to New York.

The Baltimore American, the leading Radical paper in Maryland, hoists the name of Grant for President in 1868.

Honorable David L. Seymour, of Troy, and delegate at large to the New York State Constitutional Convention, died at Lanesboro, Thursday.

A Washington special says the Government is on the track of the counterfeiters of the seven-thirty notes, with a fair prospect of their capture.

The Madison (Indiana) Courier says: "We have good authority, and tolerably direct, that Senator Morton is in favor of General U. S. Grant for President in 1868."

The Santa Fe trade over the plains has become very large. The amount paid for freighting on their route last year is estimated at $22,000,000.

Dennis McGrath has commenced a suit in St. Louis, against Mrs. General Sherman, for the recovery of a cow, which he claims to be his property.

The Wall street (New York) Review says: "General Wm. J. Hardee, of Selma, Alabama, has been appointed general agent of the North American Life of this city, for the State of South Carolina.

Emily Jordan, the actress, was divorced recently from her husband, George Jordan, and married a couple of weeks ago to Charles Ransom, Esq., a well known public man in New York.

The Radicals of Albemarle, Virginia, have revised their Convention ticket, leaving off the colored candidate and nominating Judge Rives and Mr. Southall, editor of the Charlottesville Chronicle.

Henry Timrod, the poet laureate of South Carolina, author of "The Hireling and the Slave," and many other poems of high merit, died of consumption, at Columbia, South Carolina, a few days since.

Hunnicutt made a speech to the negroes in Charles City county, recently, and advised them that if they could not handle muskets they could set fire to the dwellings of their enemies,

Major Fayette Hewitt, the new Quartermaster General of Kentucky, was Adjutant General to the Kentucky Confederate brigade which fought at Chickamauga under General Hardin Helm.

The new Nicolson pavement which is being laid in Mercer street, New York, took fire last Wednesday morning from the boiling over of a pitch kettle. A plentiful supply of sand speedily extinguished the flames.

Judge Mills, formerly of Yellow Springs, Ohio, has been elected City Recorder of Nashville. Captain S. F. Allen was elected First and Lieutenant B. F. Cook Second City Attorney. John Clumerly was elected City Marshal.

The Alton Democrat says: "An interesting domestic scene occurred yesterday, in the shape of a man chasing his wife through the streets, and pelting her with stones—a favor which the lady reciprocated."

It is proposed that the Kentucky Legislature prohibit the collection of Federal taxes in that State until she is permitted to have a voice in Congress through her Representatives, who are now excluded by the Radicals.

Another trouble with the English style of railway carriages is, that guards of a curious turn of mind climb along the top and peer in at the passengers. One of them, who was thus watching a gentleman and lady, was crushed under a bridge for his impertinence.

A diamond, worth $5,000, lost by a gentleman named Evans in Louisville, six months since, and for which he had offered a reward of $1,000, was found in Nashville on Friday by detective Larry Ryan, in possession of a gentleman from Cincinnati, named Williams, who claims to have purchased it.

Thomas McCauley, the genteel burglar, who displayed such artistic taste in the selection of household furniture, books, etc., during a series of extensive burglaries on Long Island, some time ago, pleaded guilty Tuesday, and was sentenced to twenty years imprisonment.

The Democracy of Brandenburg county, Indiana, thus "resolves" the legal tender greenback question: "Resolved, That if greenbacks were good enough pay for men who risked their blood in behalf of the country, they should be good enough to pay those who only risked their money."

A report has gained currency that the American Minister at Florence, Hon. George P. Marsh, had demanded the release of General Garibaldi, on the ground that he was a citizen of the United States. This is denied; but it is true that Mr. Marsh has asked the Government to show clemency to the distinguished prisoner.

It is reported in Washington that a large number of the national banks in the country have joined in with the whisky dealers in the effort to displace Secretary McCulloch, their object being to prevent the early return to specie payment indicated by the Secretary's policy. Who say McCulloch's friends.

At Cheyenne, on the night of the 4th instant, James Moore, a well known ranchman, and reputed the richest man on the plains, killed Pat Mullaly in a disreputable house, and was himself killed by Mullaly's friend John Hayes. The latter is now in the hands of the vigilants, who will probably hang him.

Henry Ward Beecher, in his discourse on Sunday, said that "some men will not shave on Sunday, and yet they spend all the week in shaving their fellow men; and many folks think it very wicked to black their boots on Sunday morning, yet they do not hesitate to black their neighbors' reputation on week days."

A Frenchman has written a description of Theodore, the Abyssinian king, from which we copy the following paragraph: "He is theatrical, fakerer, as say the Abyssinians. It is just the shade which the great Latin comic writer renders by glorious. When he gives audience to strangers, to chiefs who come to make submission, he leans negligently on two magnificent tame lions while two others roll, gape or stretch at his feet; and he enjoys, like a child, the emotion which these formidable living decorations inspire in the visitor.

The Cincinnati Enquirer's Washington special gives an interesting account of Presidential intrigues in that city among Radical politicians. Jay Cooke and his bank clique have had a secret meeting, to which Grant was invited, and modestly asked to stand aside in favor of Mr. Chase, their candidate. On the other hand, Grant's friends, composed of Conservative Republicans (if there is such an article), urge him to run without a platform, for the sake of saving the party from ruin, and of relieving it from the bad odor of negro suffrage, which so disgusted the people in the late elections.

OUR FRENCH CORRESPONDENCE.

CHATEAU ST. ETIENNE,
BOULOGNE, FRANCE, September 4, 1867.

MY DEAR AVALANCHE: In rainy weather I take to my pen as a duck to water, (do me one of your own les plein expressionnes,) and as we are having a "rainy season" here, which threatens the grape crop, you may expect to hear from me often.

Speaking yesterday of our brave Hampton, of the AVALANCHE, and of Gallaway, I and my wife and the boys agreed to write for you to come. We need just such men in France. Count Bismark's insulting circular makes our French blood boil. You may not know that we are descended from Rogers DeLisle, the author of the Marseillaise hymn, (as a herald des armes informed me for five francs;) but it is so, and when Count Bismark, singing of the consolidation of Germany, at the expense of France, writes a cool and insulting circular, when at the same time soldiers are marching in every street and town of France, and the "Prussian" song alternated with the great hymn of my French ancestors, are you surprised that I sigh for Gallaway and Hampton? Come over here immediately, and let us illuminate these people. They are (I speak it with reverence) a thousand years behind the wisdom of American politics. Napoleon is getting old, and would receive us exultingly. But I am running on too rapidly; perhaps you would like to know the cost of living before you come. Possibly some of your readers have said: "I wonder if I could get along in a country where I would never see a Yankee?" If so, let them ponder these facts: My chateau, after entering an iron gate, by permission of the "concierge," (this is a woman, who in France has special charge of the chateau); you follow a winding gravel walk, fragrant with every imaginable flower, about two hundred yards. This introduces you suddenly, after having passed many charming bowers, to the mansion of his Lordship, a beautiful house of about ten rooms, for which his Lordship pays $250 a year. Ha! ha! ha! I paid about forty times as much for the old college, if you make due allowance for the ghosts there! Do you think, O, charming AVALANCHE, that his Lordship is so fault for staying here as long as his money holds out? Tell those poor, Pharaoh ridden people, that Moses hath found a land of plenty, of vines and pomgranites, and corn, and that they must all come to him. Hampton has such a fine baby that he will be happy anywhere, but Gallaway must come to me—poor, dear fellow! I'll divide with him to the last. Pity O, compatriot, from those detestable Yankees, but bring some of our old fashioned nigs to wait on us.

Well, after all this nonsense, perhaps you would wish your "foreign correspondent" to convey some special information. What do you want? Paris is once more deserted. The Exhibition is closing, and the only excitement remaining is the Pan Anglican Council. The excitement as regards this arises from the coolness of English Bishops, who decline entering into it. The London Times is very merry over our Western Bishops, saying "men whose position is doubtful never decline an invitation." So we have American Bishops a plenty who came expecting to be "My Lord," but the English gentry give them the cold shoulder, and this augers them, Ne tra celestibus animis. Your own

MONDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES.

Stevens Favors a General Impeachment Law.

Negro Outrages in South Carolina.

The Vote in Hamilton County, Ohio.

The Pennsylvania Legislature.

McCoole's Challenge to Joe. Coburn.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—Hon. Mr. Shanks and J. D. Larrabee, Chairman and Clerk of the Congressional Committee on the treatment of prisoners, has left for Boston to-night, where the Committee will sit to take testimony in the New England States.

Letters have been read here from Thaddeus Stevens, in which he declares his intention to urge upon Congress as soon as it meets in November, two great measures essential to the safety of the country. The first is a general impeachment law, defining offenses upon which an officer may be impeached and expressly declaring that no officer shall continue to exercise the powers of his office during his trial. The second law which Mr. Stevens intends to urge upon Congress is one to disfranchise, in November, all persons who have participated in the late rebellion, and upon the principle of the Declaration of Independence, that no State shall have power to prohibit citizens of the United States, whatever their race, color or religion, from voting for President or Congressmen. This law will establish impartial suffrage throughout the Union. Leading Republicans inform that Mr. Stevens will be sustained by Congress.

CHARLESTON, October 14.—General Canby and staff go to Columbia to-morrow, to consult with Governors Orr and Worth.

The order for an election for a convention will be issued on Canby's return.

Senor Romero and party have arrived, and are awaiting the arrival of the United States steamer Wilderness.

It is reported that a party of negroes last night tore up the track on the South Carolina railroad, at Hopkins, near Columbia. The train was thrown from the track, and the cars robbed.

CINCINNATI, October 14.—The official returns of Hamilton county show the following result: For Congress, Second district, Curry's majority, 259; for Governor, Hayes' majority, 1,524; against the Constitutional amendment, majority, 4,677. John Sebastian, Radical candidate for county treasurer, received the largest majority, it being 1,804. The Radical candidates for State Senators received an average majority of 1,471, and the Representatives 1,482. The total vote of the county was 86,810.

ST. LOUIS, October 14.—Miles McCoole, the pugilist, has telegraphed to Frank Queen, editor of the New York Clipper, $1,000 forfeit money, and a challenge to fight any man in America, particularly Joe. Coburn, for $10,000 or less.

PHILADELPHIA, October 14.—The Morning Post has returns from the legislative districts of the State, which give the following result: Senate—twenty Republicans, thirteen Democrats; House—fifty-four Republicans, forty-six Democrats.

SAVANNAH, October 14.—Mayor Anderson has issued a proclamation prohibiting torch light processions on the ground that it would be likely to result in a riot and conflagration. The Republican meeting, which is advertised for four p.m. to-morrow, and a torch light procession to take place in the evening, have been indefinitely postponed.

NEW YORK, October 14—Noon.—Gold opened at 144¾ and at eleven a.m. declined to 144½, and is now 144. The cotton market is unchanged in every respect.

FLORENCE, October 13.—Garibaldi has named a son of Menoth generalissimo of the revolutionary forces engaged in the movement on Rome. It is stated that bands of invaders have been driven over the frontiers by Papal troops and disarmed by national forces.

MISSISSIPPI ITEMS.

The Canton (Mississippi) Mail is now published daily.

The Southern Sentinel reports much sickness in Lowndes county, but not of a malignant character.

The boll worm, says the American Citizen, has literally eaten up the cotton crop in Madison county.

In the principal towns of Mississippi, by General Ord's amended order, the polls are to be opened one day for white and one day for colored voters.

The Jackson Clarion learns that Captain W. T. Hickle died at Marion Station, of yellow fever, on Saturday last.

Edward I. Vogleson, one of the proprietors of the Washington Hotel, Vicksburg, died in that city on the night of the 5th instant.

The Meridan Gazette says: "Major Norton, Commander of the Post; Lieutenant Nye, Commissary; Mr. Thomas, Agent of the Freedmen's Bureau, and about twenty-five per centum of the men on duty here, are sick with chills and fever."

A Mr. Naron, one of the Registrars for Chickasaw, has been removed by General Ord, for actively participating in an attempt to organize a Radical or Republican party in that county.

Steps are being taken in Ocktibbeha county to secure white labor for the coming year. An example worthy of imitation.

Mr. Brooks, a merchant of Brookhaven, died Saturday, and his clerk is sick, with yellow fever, imparted by a box of woolen goods from New Orleans.

DR. W. H. Burton was killed at Meridian Saturday, by R. H. Breckinridge, in consequence of allegations of Mrs. Breckinridge that the former had been guilty of improprieties toward her.

Francis Ross died in Madison county, Mississippi, last Sunday, in his eighty-eighth year, the oldest citizen in the county, having settled there in 1809. He was a soldier of the war of 1812, and fought in the battle of New Orleans.

Mrs. N. J. Hawkins and her grandson, Leo A. Phillips, died Saturday in New Orleans. Mrs. H. was widow of the late T. J. Hawkins of Mississippi, well known to the Masonic fraternity of that and the adjoining States.

Pleasant Bowler, a colored preacher at Columbus, last Sunday, added one hundred and thirty members to his church. The Sentinel says he devotes himself to his legitimate business, but he is often confounded with another colored preacher named Bolin, who recenty attempted to organize a Loyal League in Lowndes county.

We hear, says the Meridian Gazette, that General Ord has removed J. W. Hull, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Kemper county, and appointed in his place a noisy, loud mouthed Radical by the name of Stafford.

The Forest Register says: "The notorious scoundrel, impostor and horse thief, A. L. Pryne, is now in custody of J. J. Mangum, Sheriff of Smith county, and all those who have charges against him can lodge them at General Ord's headquarters."

THE ELECTIONS IN THE BELT OF MIDDLE STATES.

The Backbone of Rotten Radicalism Broken.

Pennsylvania and Ohio Rebel Against the Tyranny, Usurpation, and Corruption of Congress.

From the National Intelligencer of Wednesday.]

The returns of the election from two great States which we publish this day more than verify the strong hope and confidence expressed by the Intelligencer yesterday, that the setting of its sun would witness glorious results that would presage the death struggle of wild fanatics and corrupt mercenaries in every considerable State of the Union within the coming year. We confess that, notwithstanding the great victories of the people against the usurpations and corruptions of Congress up to the present moment in the ever memorable year 1867, we had not fully appreciated the stern and solemn resolve of a patriotic and intelligent people to withstand, under circumstances of darkness, storm and gloom the Congressional oligarchy and its ramifications in diabolism, State and national. It is to the honor of the people of the United States of America that they, without an organization, without a head or subordinate chiefs, without money, without political tracts, without, as a general thing, an able press, without, in many cases, good leaders or speakers, or an active canvass, and, too frequently, without the presentation of the best issues, have fought bravely up to grand victories over the foes of the Constitution and Union; victories against allied class monopolists and the shoddy money power, and a vast standing army of officeholders, State and national.

This they have have done, though vast sums have been raised by the class monopolists and the shoddy aristocracy to save themselves in the great central States of Ohio and Pennsylvania. The former State has been overrun by the orators of fanatical mercenaries. There, as in Pennsylvania, money has been applied profusely to revive the hates of the war, by stimulating into fierce action the shoddy "loyal leagues," with their subordinate machinery of the "Grand Army of the Republic," and the overshadowing influence of class interests to awe and terrify their operatives.

Their organization has been very complete, in the fact that they have had a cloud of officeholders, which in the character of national, State, county, city, and town officials, constituted an army more formidable than so many dragoons to intimidate and beat down the people. The successes in the way of gains have been achieved by the people alone and unaided by extrinsic advantages, over a serried host, banded together by the power of place and public plunder, the shoddy money power, and class monopolies.

Never in the history of this country, and of course why other, has there been such an amazing vindication of the popular intelligence and conscientiousness as is now manifested by our people. They have accomplished that greatest of victories, the suppression or subjugation of passions naturally engendered among brothers during a protracted civil war, an achievement, in the eye of Providence, the most noble that human nature can boast. The antagonistic conduct of the infatuated followers of the intolerant, cruel, vindictive, proscriptive, and persecuting Radical tyrants, usurpers, and corruptionists, illustrates the truth that there are those

"Who resist,
The rising thought; who smother, in its birth,
The glorious truth; who struggle to be brutes;
Who through the bosom-barrier bend their way;
And, with revengeful ambition, strive to sink;
Who labor downwards, through th' opposing pow'r
Of instinct, reason, and the world against them,
To dismal hopes, and shelter in the shock
Of endless night!"

A NOBLE STAND.

Letter of Hon. A. H. Handy, of Mississippi.

To His Excellency, Benjamin G. Humphreys, Governor of the State of Mississippi:

SIR: I hereby resign the office as Judge of the High Court of Errors and Appeals of the State of Mississippi.

In surrendering this high trust, so repeatedly and so generously committed to me by the people, I deem it proper that I should make known the reasons which constrain me to do so.

It is well understood that the United States military commander of this State claims the right, and has the physical power, at discretion to eject from office any or all of the judges of the State, to appoint others in their places; to set aside and annul the judgments of the courts, and in short, to set at naught the Constitution and laws of the State, from and under which alone it hold office. These pretensions are, in my judgment, incompatible with the supremacy of the civil law, the dearest right of a free people; and if acquiesced in, must lead to subserviency in the judges, destructive of their purity, or subject them to the imputation of it; degrading to the dignity of a tribunal which should stand above all suspicion.

I have been educated to believe a free and untrammeled judiciary to be the great bulwark of civil liberty in free governments—its protection alike against popular excitement, and the usurpation of those in political power. Unmoved by popular tumult, and unawed by fear of control from those holding the reins of political government, in its grave and solemn action, it holds the scales of justice with a firm and unwavering hand, dispensing law and right alike to all; and, whilst sustaining the Government in the exercise of its legitimate power, at the same time, having the right and power to stay its hand whenever raised to invade the constitutional rights of the humblest citizen. In order to the fulfilment of these high functions, it is manifest that the supreme judiciary of a State must be perfectly free and independent, without fear of control, except by that salutary influence which proceeds from provisions of the organic law made to secure official fidelity.

Of such a tribunal I am proud to have been a member for the last fourteen years. But now it is apparent that its character and dignity cannot be maintained, and that its powers must be held and exercised in subordination to the behests of a military commander. And though not as yet positively put into exercise by this officer, yet the extraordinary power is asserted; and that is, in my view, such an invasion of the legitimate powers of the judiciary as to place it in a condition of military duress, in which I cannot seem to acquiesce by acting under it.

It would be repugnant to all my ideas of propriety to hold the judicial office subject to the discretion of a military commander, who has the physical power to set aside the judgments of the courts, upon any subject, whenever he may think fit to do so. Regard for the rightful powers and dignity of the judiciary, which it is my duty to sustain, therefore, renders it impossible that the supreme judicial tribunal of the State should suffer such a degradation at my hands, by my continuing in the office of its Chief Justice, under such circumstances; and self-respect impels me to refuse from it while its dignity is undiminished and its purity unsullied.

I have the honor to remain, with high respect, your Excellency's obedient servant,

A. H. HANDY.

ARKANSAS ITEMS.

There will be a grand tournament at the driving park in Little Rock, on the 23d instant, open to the world.

The crops along the Arkansas river are looking good, and the worms have disappeared. A half crop will be made by most of the planters.

Captain Ed. Butler, a Cherokee, who is well known by most of the old settlers of Fort Smith, died at the Seminole Agency on the 12th instant, of cholera.

The Augusta (Arkansas) Sentinel is evidently out of temper with its cotemporary, the Chronicle. It calls the Chronicle man a "lying scoundrel," and various other bad names.

In the new town of Cheyenne, at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, first settled a few weeks ago, one paper, the Leader, is published, and the second, the Argus, will be issued in a few days.

Our advices from Fayetteville, sign the Van Buren Press, say that Mr. Ham, Andrew Johnson's United States District Attorney, would not register. He is disgusted with the conservatism of General Ord and his subordinates. He wants a constitution for the State like that of Tennessee and Missouri.

A lot of 5,000 bushels of corn, sent to Little Rock on commission, was reshipped to St. Louis, for the reason that no market was to be found there in consequence of the coming in of the home crop. From this time forth, says the Little Rock Gazette, Arkansas proposes to raise her own bread and meat.

A gentleman by the name of English, teaching school in Conway county, near Quitman, mistook some arsenic for quinine, of which he took a dose, and died in twenty minutes thereafter. Mr. English had been afflicted with chills, and was treating himself with quinine, and while on his way to school stopped at a friend's house and took what he thought to be quinine, but it proved to be arsenic.

TUESDAY, : : : : : : OCTOBER 15, 1867

It is a noble instinct which prompts us to honor the dead. Humanity joins with religion in suppressing all earthly distinctions and passions at the mouth of the tomb. The mansion may be envied, the hovel may be scorned, but the grave is alike revered, whether it be adorned with sculptured marble or decked with a simple flower. It would seem that in the mortal remains of a fellow creature we respect a fate that we know must soon be our own, and, conscious of the worth of a soul, would do homage even to the ruined temple in which it was enshrined. But when the object of such feelings concentrates in himself the best traits of our nature, and has been conducted by Providence to an eminence from which he illustrates them in the view of multitudes, the ordinary cold respect warms to admiration and melts into love. We behold the image of our common humanity reflected and magnified in him as a cherished ideal. Death, which makes sacred every thing it touches, throws a mild halo around his memory, and we hasten to bring to his grave—all that we now have to give—the poor tribute of our praises and tears. We are led to these reflections by the death of Captain JOHN R. SANDERS, who died at his residence in this city on Tuesday evening last, the 8th instant. The deceased was raised in Lowndes county, Mississippi, near Columbus. He removed to this city immediately after the termination of the late war, and during his short residence here made a host of valuable friends who deeply mourn his death. Captain SANDERS was an artist by taste, genius and profession. He spent many years in Europe where he made himself proficient in his profession. He painted some of the finest portraits ever taken in this city. The likenss of General CLEBURNE, which now graces our sanctum, and the portraits of Captain DAN. ABLE and Dr. JAMES M. KELLER, will immortalize his fame as an artist. As a man, he was blameless in all the relations of life, while he discharged all his duties as a good citizen. Indeed, he was an exemplary man in all the relations of life. He leaves behind him five children, and a beautiful young wife, who is languishing upon a bed of sickness with the same disease that struck down her husband. May He who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" comfort the orphan children and the heartbroken wife. The deceased was a Captain during the late war, and a gallant soldier. He was our friend. We loved him with all the devotion of an ardent nature—and we mourn his death with unaffected sorrow. No sculptured marble in its virgin purity, may rise above his mouldering bones, but his pure and unspotted life will be his proudest monument. Death had no sting to him, yet when we contemplate his loss to his friends and his family, how keenly do we feel the application of the language of the Indian, "death always comes out of season." Indeed has the family lost an amiable husband and father. May the sod rest lightly on his grave and his children emulate his virtues.

Since the foregoing was penned, we have learned that Mrs. SUE SANDERS, wife of the deceased, is dying. We have only time to say she was the worthy wife of a model husband. They were twin spirits on earth, and it seems they are to be twin spirits in eternity. We deeply sympathise with the orphan children and twin sister in their sad bereavement.

SNOBBERY is rampant in the North. The toadies and flunkies are jubilant over the appearance of the shoulder-strapped tyrant, General PHIL. SHERIDAN in their midst. He is now the idol of the hour—a political divinity whom small men worship with an idolatrous devotion. In the estimation of the lackeys WASHINGTON was a dwarf and NAPOLEON a pigmy in comparison with the transcendent PHIL. SHERIDAN. Wherever he appears we see the same kind of clapping, noise, satisfaction and adulation. To prove the degeneracy of the times—that this is an age of small men—we have only to refer to SHERIDAN'S recent speeches in New York, in which he said "rebellion is a crime and it shall [illegible]" Poor, little contemptible creature! The recent rebellion is sanctified in the hearts of the Southern people, and little PHIL. SHERIDAN can no more make it dishonorable than he can extract the heart's blood of the great masses, which now throbs in sympathy for as noble a cause as ever nerved the arm of patriots. It "shall not be made honorable." You contemptible popinjay, long after you are dead and rotting in an unknown and forgotten grave, the heroes who fought and died in the lost cause will proudly live in the affections of the people for whom they suffered, bled and perished. Can such a miserable creature as PHIL. SHERIDAN suppose that his ipse dixit, that the filthy vapors of his stinking breath can make infamous a cause which was supported by the statesmanship of DAVIS, the intellect of STEPHENS, and by the patriotism of LEE, and the knigthly valor of JOHNSTON, STONEWALL JACKSON and N. B. FORREST? Poor, deluded, miserable fool! SHERIDAN may ride upon the shoulders of huskey, buxom, odoriferous negroes, but he is too short in the poop to make infamous a noble cause. The sun has dark spots upon its broad disc, but the small twaddle of military tyrants can make no dark spots upon a cause in the defense of which our truest and noblest men bled and died. The howlings of wolves do not disturb the equanimity of the moon, and the pitiable howlings of such despots as SHERIDAN will not make dishonorable a cause which nerved the arm of LEE and JOHNSTON and FORREST. As we have before said, this is an age of impudence, of brass, and of small men. Even if SHERIDAN was not a humbug—a very small potato—a sham and fraud, it is not becoming a free people—a democratic government—to lavish upon him the homage of an obsequious applause, which only tyrants desire and slaves perform. Man-worship, which Americans used to scorn and detest in the earlier and better days of the Republic, is now the besetting sin of our people. This very odious custom should be abolished. The most objectionable practice is that of harassing and tormenting the small men, when traveling through the country, with attentions the most unpleasant and unnecessary. If a distinguished author comes among us, to quietly amuse himself with our eccentricities and national peculiarities, the literary insects of every village, town and city worry him with their immense small talk, execrable dinners and interested attentions. He meets everywhere with shoals of Lilliputions who are never happy until the itinerant GULLIVER has complacently and hypocritically drunk their bad wines, and laughed in his sleeve at their sloppy libraries and ugly paintings. The American idea of comfort is to allow a great man no rest, no moment of privacy. He is a gratuitous exhibition, at which well dressed snobs stare all day long with the unwinking eyes of the most untiring and pertinacious curiosity. They sit opposite to him at table, and watch with admiring looks every morsel that he puts into his mouth, and make a note of every flourish of his napkin. If some dilapidated sprig of nobility, hastening West to shoot buffaloes, and study Indian character, pauses for a day in any town of the Union, a lion hunter pounces upon him with the quick instinct of a hawk, and calling in the aid of a large family, lugs him from church to concert, and from concert to ball room, until all the less patriotic lion hunters and toadies turn a beautiful pea green with envy and jealousy. Hence we have acquired a great reputation among the nations of the earth for toadyism and tuft hunting; and when the gilding and credit of bankrupt baronets, swindling counts and sottish barons are worn off and lost at home, they seek this country as the best theater extant for the successful operations of "honorable" rascals and distinguished scamps. Thus, where the lion hunters of this country secure one genuine gentleman, they have palmed upon them a hundred very bad counterfeit presentments of the article. But the annoyances to which we subject foreigners are felt with hundred fold aggravation by the prominent official characters of our own country. The microscopic literary man and mushroom millionaire hunt distinguished foreigners—the people, en masse, yell and sweat at the heels of a traveling President and his Cabinet. The President is a personage that the gentlemen of the great firms of Tom, Dick and Harry, and of the not less respectable concern of Rag, Tag and Bobtail, can appreciate and understand. To give that high executive officer a hearty greeting, it is not necessary for the members of these large firms to cramp their bodies with the not often used luxuries of clean linen and dress coats. The plebeian can grasp the great man's hand without washing from his own paw the stratified dirt of twenty different soils. The carpenter need not lay aside the paper cap and green baize jacket in holding communion with the successor of WASHINGTON, and the coal heaver can scatter the dust of his honorable vocation over the select circle of the President's drawing room. Even in the White House, you meet with the representatives of all the classes of society, looking as free and easy as unwashed sovereigns alone can look, treading Brussels carpets and gazing into Paris mirrors with the most placid satisfaction. But it is only during such a pilgrimage as that which drunken SHERIDAN is now performing that the faithful can be seen to the very greatest advantage. Let the rumor go forth that a man is approaching who will some day have power and place, and straightway flunkeydom is in commotion. Then commences the horrors of the popular carnival. The sweltering crowd yell and scream as he approaches. Thousands upon thousands block up the streets, cluster like bees on the wharf and around the hotel, where the aspirant pauses on his journey. To these annoyances are added the more terrible tortures which the municipal authorities of a city best know how to inflict. The mob shouts itself hoarse, and reduces the hand of the pilgrim to the condition of a jelly, and then retires to its working shops and drinking shops. But plethoric Aldermen take a firmer hold upon the patient sufferer. It is their duty to extract speeches from the bewildered dignitary. They meet him at railway stations and steamboat landings, clothed in the awful majesty of office—blue coats, white waistcoats and black trousers—and, although not remarkable for eloquence, upon such occasions they grind out excruciating speeches, full of the most virgin and unalloyed lead. To each and all of these things the stranger is bound to reply, praising their cities, and giving them pleasing, soft solder. Then come the civic feasts, good enough in themselves, but rendered horrible by an interminable supplement of dull toasts and speeches, with the sentences strangely disjointed by wind and wine. A reply to these demonstrations requires extraordinary tact and judgment on the part of the lion. Public speaking is a gift in which many of our great men have been deficient; some of them, such as WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON and MADISON, were able writers but bad speakers; whilst such men as HARRISON and TAYLOR were neither speakers nor writers. The poorest and most contemptable of all the speakers is little PHIL. SHERIDAN. His speeches are in horrid taste—well calculated to detract from his reputation as a man of judgment and discretion. Instead of making a few pertinent and eloquent remarks—full of thrilling gratitude and conciliatory words—he branches it in a regular set speech, boring his audience with the threadbare arguments of a stale and tiresome canvass. Head dresses his hearers, not as men who pay homage to a stranger of talent and genius, but as his partisans. Before the little despot undertakes another electioneering peregrination, we trust he will read the speeches of General FRANK. PIERCE on such occasions. He can profit by such a perusal, as they were model specimens of the kind of stuff necessary in such straits. He always eschewed every thing of a partizan nature. His replies to his tormenters were always felicitous, handsomely expressed, well delivered, and peculiarly appropriate. They were neither too long nor too short, but just the things in every respect. As was said of another, he

"Always spoke the thing he thought,
In general thought the thing he ought."

Like MARK ANTONY, he always spoke "right on" and to the point with direct emphasis. Indeed, President PIERCE appears to excel in that in which poor SHERIDAN is very deficient—that of making an appropriate speech to a promiscuous crowd, who come more to see than to hear.

It seems that the health of poor old THAD. STEVENS is still precarious. The Radical press are shedding dolorous tears over his condition. The Philadelphia Press, the paper edited by the infamous FORNEY, says that upon the life of this miserable creature "hangs the destiny of the everlasting interest of the Republic." If this be so, may we express with Dr. WATTS, the great psalmist:

"Great God, on what a slender thread,
Hangs everlasting things."

We trust this base, bad old man, may live for many years, but when the devil claims him as his own, he will

"Leave no memorial but a world
Made better by his death."

WE are gratified to learn that in Vicksburg, on Sunday, there were no deaths from or new cases of yellow fever.

The Democrats gained one thousand votes in Thad. Stevens' district, at the election Tuesday last.

It appears to be quite probable that General McClernand, of Illinois, may succeed General Grant in the War Department.

Prentice says the difference between Sheridan and Butler is, that the former is the hero of only Five Forks, while the other is the hero of as many forks and spoons as he could lay hands on.

On last Saturday evening Mr. Charles H. Dunn shot his brother-in-law, Mr. Jenkins, both of New Providence, Tenn. It is said that the difficulty originated about family affairs, more than a year ago.

Boyd & Co., Solicitors of Patents, 208 Pine street, St. Louis, Missouri, officially report to the AVALANCHE the following patents granted Kentucky, Louisiana and Texas inventors for the week ending October 8, 1866: J. G. Dodge, Louisville, Kentucky, plow; C. J. Cushing, R. F. Wall and W. A. Wood, Hancock county, Kentucky, improvement in tanning; A. Bubarin, New Orleans, Louisiana, lemon squeezer; W. J. Johnson, New Orleans, Louisiana, truss pad; L. LeFevre, New Orleans, Louisiana, sugar evaporator; J. C. Walker, Waco Village, Texas, hot air steam and water gauge.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE—FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11.

A resolution of thanks to General Sheridan was laid over.

Mr. Cate introduced a bill to amend the charter of certain mining companies, authorizing the several copper mining companies in Polk county to subscribe stock in railroad companies, and giving them power to issue first mortgage bonds to pay such subscription. Passed and referred.

Mr. Norman, a bill to change the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth judicial circuits. Passed and referred.

Senate bills to authorize title bonds to be read as evidence in actions of ejectment, and the bill to secure the proper reward to labor, repealing the stay and exemption laws in certain cases, amended by restricting its application to sums of $100 and under, were considered and passed, without a division, on the second reading.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

By Mr. Ryder: A resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee to take into consideration that portion of the Governor's message which recommends the establishment of a branch penitentiary. Adopted.

By Mr. Ryder: A resolution repealing the joint resolution offering a reward for the arrest of Isham G. Harris. Adopted.

By Mr. Ryder: A bill incorporating the Marine Savings Banks of Memphis. Referred to the Committee on Incorporations.

By Mr. Hamilton: A bill to amend the practice in cases of ejectment. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

By Mr. Brown: A bill granting a change of venue in civil cases, where a loyal man makes affidavit that he cannot get justice in his own county. Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

House resolution No. 7: Authorizing the Controller to pay members of the General Assembly and take their receipts; the same to be good in the settlement of their accounts at the end of the session. Adopted.

House resolution No. 8: Declaring the sentiment of the General Assembly of Tennessee in favor of the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, and instructing representatives from this State to vote for articles of impeachment. Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

House resolution No. 12: Providing for the appointment of a committee to consider that part of the Governor's message referring to the adjustment of accounts between the State and certain railroad companies. Adopted, and Messrs. Prosser, McNair and Hanmer were constituted a committee on the part of the House.

House resolution No. 13: Providing for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate into the condition of the railroad sinking fund accounts. Adopted.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Heavy Cotton Failures in Liverpool.

Large Amount of Counterfeit Seven-Thirties.

Decrease of the Yellow Fever in New Orleans.

Facts and Fancies From Washington.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 14.

Private cable dispatches report the failures of F. & N. Ralli and C. Campbell & Son, cotton dealers, in Liverpool. Liabilities, $2,000,000 in gold.

Seventy-nine thousand dollars in spurious seven-thirties were taken by the Assistant Treasurer to bankers, from whom they were purchased, but they refused to receive them, and intend to test the matter in the courts. The points of difference in the seven-thirties show that in the counterfeit notes the lines forming the right shoulder of the female in central vignette do not come up to the sword, but leave a white space. In the genuine notes the lines are more numerous and come clearly and distinctly up to the sword. Only $70,000 spurious notes have been presented to the treasury so far, as discovered.

Mike McCoole and Joe Coburn have agreed to contend for the championship of America and $10,000 a side.

It is stated that there is utter want of confidence in the credit of Liverpool firms here.

The Commercial says a consolidation of capitalists in this city recently appropriated $100,000 to be used as margin in cotton purchases, the whole of which are, we understand, wiped out.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, October 14.

The Sub-Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives met to-day, at twelve o'clock, in committee room of the capitol. The following members were present: Francis Thomas, Chairman, Messrs. Boutwell, Lawrence, Churchill and Marshall. This committee is charged with the duty of inquiring if the States of Maryland and Delaware have a republican form of government and not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States. No testimony was taken, although witnesses are in waiting.

The Commissioner of Patents has issued certificates for 213 patents for the week ending October 12, 1867.

Chief Justice Chase returned to Washington to-day.

A number of prominent Southern railroad men are here, including Generals Beauregard and Mahone, who called at the War Department to-day, to consult with General Grant with reference to obtaining an extension in the time for completing the payment due the Government for rolling stock purchased after the close of the war. General Beauregard this morning had an interview with Secretary McCulloch.

DIED,

In this city, on Sunday morning, the 13th of October, 1867, after a short illness, Mrs. LAURA OPPER, wife of C. W. Gopper. Aged thirty-six years.

On October 1, WILLIAM SWAN, son of Wm. G. and Margaret P. Swan, aged twelve years and eight months.

We knew the noble boy who thus early has passed to the rest from which we believe his spirit will take flight to the happiest realms above. Affliction's last chastening rod, we have often witnessed the pleasure it afforded you to discharge the duty of child to parent, and how much of solace and comfort you were to a now sadly bereaved father, and as we know to a fond and loving mother, and how much your presence is missed by a sister loving and dear. Good boy, few of your years have ever left so fit for death and yet so much to be missed.

VICKSBURG, MISS., OCTOBER 8, 1867.—In consequence of the prevalence of Yellow Fever in the city of Vicksburg, we feel compelled, for the safety of ourselves, our families and employes, to postpone the Second Preliminary Distribution of the Mississippi Agricultural, Educational and Manufacturing Aid Society from the 15th to the 25th of November, 1867.

To give our patrons and the public at a distance the necessary time for renewal of certificates, the Third Preliminary Distribution will be drawn on December 10th, and the Grand Scheme December 26th, 1867.

We trust that a kind and indulgent public will both excuse and approve of the short postponement.

All parties holding unexpired certificates are requested to direct their communications to the undersigned at Meridian, Miss., to which place our office is temporarily removed. As heretofore, all will remain at Vicksburg to attend to any communications or orders for certificates.

W. D. LYLES, President.
ALBERT SANDEL, Secretary.

The drawing of the School Fund for Vicksburg and Jackson will be postponed from October 24th to November 12th, 1867. oct15

FUN AHEAD.—The Memphis boat club announces their intention to give another regatta before winter sets in.

POLICE COURT.—But thirteen cases on the docket yesterday morning, and only thirty-nine dollars collected.

MEETING OF THE BOARD.—The Board of Aldermen meet this afternoon, when we hope the vexed Main street paving question will be settled.

JEFFERSON STREET.—The last of the gap of the Nicolson pavement was closed yesterday, and it is now one of the finest thoroughfares in the city.

HOG THIEVES.—James Gasman and John Bullock, colored, were committed to jail yesterday by Squire Miller for stealing hogs from Johnny Gearin.

DISHONEST NURSE.—John Mitchell, a nurse at Dr. Keller's hospital, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing forty dollars from a patient on whom he was attending.

QUIET.—The city for the past two days has been unusually quiet, and nothing exhilerating occurring save the yellow fever excitement, which will no doubt measurably decrease to-day, from the favorable report of the Board of Health.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—This committee met on yesterday. Nothing important was done, save referring a number of accounts to the Committee on Accounts, who will report this morning.

ARUSING WHITE WOMEN.—Louisa Howe, a colored woman, was yesterday committed to the central station for using abusive and threating language toward some white women.

TO DAY—At Mrs. Wilkin's, 353 Main street, goods will be opened and offered at low and reasonable prices. This is the season's opening day at 353 Main street.

DEAD.—Sergeant Hampton, of the Metropolitan Police, died last evening at a quarter to seven o'clock. His funeral will take place this morning. His wife, we understand is also in a dangerous condition.

CHILD LOST.—Alice Cois, a small child dressed in red, and hat trimmed with red and black leather, strayed from home yesterday. Information left at the corner of Court and Front streets, room No. 7, up stairs, will be thankfully received.

TRESPASS.—John Cassiday committed a trespass, yesterday, and was fined before Commissioner Richards, but not having the money he will have to serve twenty-three days on the chain gang, unless some of his friends come to his relief.

TAKE NOTICE.—Passmore & Co., No. 260 Second street, sell this morning a large variety of household furniture; a superior toned piano, and a large variety of plated ware that rarely finds its way into an auction house. The ladies are respectfully invited to attend the sale.

LAW COURT—OCTOBER TERM.—Met on yesterday and adjourned over to the 28th October, 1867. All jurors summoned to appear on yesterday will take notice of the above adjournment and appear on the 28th instant without further notice.

CRIMINAL COURT—OCTOBER TERM.—Met on yesterday and adjourned over to Wednesday next, the 16th instant. All jurors summoned to appear on yesterday will appear promptly on next Wednesday, or forfeitures will be taken against them.

UNITED STATES COURT.—The jury on yesterday returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the case of Moore & Co. vs Howes.

Judge Trigg discharged the jurymen for the present term after complimenting and thanking them for their promptness and attention to the business brought before them. To-day motions will be heard.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—Major M. S. Ward, editor of the Panola Star, died on Friday. He was first attacked with cholera morbus, which ended in congestion. The Major was forty-seven years of age, and unmarried, and had resided for twenty years in Mississippi. He was a prominent Mason, and was attended to the grave by members of that order, and interred with all the rites and ceremonies of its ritual.

TRUNK STOLEN.—Martha Jackson, colored, had a trunk stolen from her room, No. 236 Washington street, on day or two ago. It was a yellow leather trunk, filled with female wearing apparel, and she mourned its loss muchly, as it left her in fact with nothing to wear." The trunk was recovered yesterday, but alas for Martha's wardrobe, it is still among the missing.

A LITTLE EXCITEMENT.—A little excitement was created on Jefferson street yesterday at about half past five o'clock, occasioned by a foot race between a man named Wentworth, carrying a pair of jockeys, and a couple of yellow divers. It turned out that he had come by the boots honestly, but had pilfered a small amount from an apple stand on Main street, and ran from the consequences into the stationhouse.

A SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.—Members are requested to meet at the Gayoso House at twelve o'clock to-day. The physicians are invited to attend, and should any be present, they are requested to furnish the Secretary of the Board of Health with a list of the cases of yellow fever they have seen within the last twenty-four hours.

W. E. ROGERS, M. D.,
Secretary Board of Health.

INQUEST.—Coroner Cotton held an inquest yesterday afternoon on the body of an unknown man found floating in the river at the foot of Beale street. On a view of the body no marks of violence were found on his person, and the jury's verdict was that he "came to his death from causes unknown to the jury." It was asserted by some of the bystanders that the body was that of the man who fell from the steamer Lizzie Gill some time since.

A BOARDING HOUSE SQUABBLE.—Wm. O'Donnell and James Regan board at the same house, and they had a difficulty about some remarks that O'Donnell is said to have made about Regan, and the latter invited him out to fight about it at a regular distance. O'Donnell went out, but instead of going in on his muscle he exploded a pistol at him. For this he was arrested on the charge of shooting with intent to kill, and had to put up a heavy forfeit.

SHANE, BELL & CO.—We direct the attention of our patrons to the advertisement, in another column, of Shane, Bell & Co., cotton and tobacco commission merchants, No. 260 Second street. They make liberal advances on produce in store, and attend to all orders. Our country friends will find it to their advantage to give Shane, Bell & Co. a call when they next wend their way to market, as they are well known to need any recommendation from us.

Emmons & Son, No. 10 Jefferson street, and 398 Main street, have received the Police Gazette, Police News, Harper's Weekly, Day Book, Round Table, Country Gentleman, Observer, Scottish American, London Daily Times, Scientific American, Rural New Yorker, True Flag, Courrier des Etats-Unis, American Union, German Leslie's, Southern Society, Italian Paper, Army and Navy Journal, Young America for November, and a lot of papers and envelops and blank books at wholesale and retail.

TRANSFER OF REAL ESTATE.—M G Janney et al to J Crowley, deed, $1,000, part of sub division of lot No. 404, which contained thirty acres, being part of lot No. 2 in town reserve on Pigeon Roost road, being that portion of lot No. 2 lying northeast of the Memphis and Charleston railroad.

W J Jennings to B F Northam et al, deed, northeast part of sub division of lot No. 404 on Pigeon Roost road. 200 by 480 feet.

Wm R Holmes jo S W Brown, deed, $400, lot No. 14, containing two acres, more or less, being sub division of Wm Holmes.

J Woodworth to C S Cook, deed correcting deed, lot on Boundary avenue, 72 by 222 feet.

ARRIVAL.—Our esteemed friend, Captain Wm. Jay Johnson, has just returned from a trip below, where he has been for a week past. He looks as though he had enjoyed health, although he speaks despondingly of the country he visited. The ravages of the worm and decline in cotton have made sad havoc with the expectations that had been entertained by the people. Captain Johnson is entertained by the people. Captain Johnson is entertained by the people. Captain Johnson is among the most energetic and prompt business men of this city. His Star wharf-boat has enjoyed an enviable popularity, and with the opening or resumption of business we hope to see him in the full tide of prosperity.

NEW MEMPHIS.—Last night was produced "Kathleen Mavourneen, or St. Patrick's Eve," in which Lady Don appeared in her usual well dressed, well played, and well spoken manner. Her singing of "Molly Bathon" and "Cushla Machree" was ravishing, and received loud plaudits. Fanny Pierson as Kitty O'Leary was as we thought a little too coarse-strained, but her singing was excellent. Mr. Ellerson as Billy Buttons was scarcely up to his former mark. To-night will be produced a good and genuine piece, in which a fine display of the vocal powers of Lady Don may be expected—we mean "Guy Mannering," in which all the Scottish ballads will be given, and in which we expect a rare treat.

THE JAPANESE.—This troupe opens to-night at the Greenlaw Opera House, for a season of only five nights. They have a reputation equal to any troupe of performers that has ever traveled. As jugglers they are said to be unequalled, and their various other feats, among which we might recognize acrobatics, tumbling, rope walking, tossing somersaults, and balancing, such as the feats of spinning and balancing, are never seen. Our people will appreciate these performers make Memphis their next stopping place. Imagine the wonders of a man on stilts, with a ladder erected on an easel, with boys and girls ascending to the top, one of the boys holding an umbrella in one hand and a fan in the other, while he spins in one hand and a fan in the other, while he spins in one hand and a fan in the other, while he spins

HERALDS OF CONFISCATION.

The Vile Treachery of Radical Journals.

Broken Faith of the Federal Government.

To the Editor of the Metropolitan Record:

DEAR SIR: I send you an an extract from the Charleston Daily News, taken from the Darlington Southerner. Concerning the political status of the Southerner I am ignorant; the News is commonly supposed to be in the Radical interest. By the passages scored you will perceive how in turn intimidation and cajoling are tried to bring the unfortunate whites into support of the Congressional reconstruction measures.

First, the convention will be held, and if held we have nothing to fear from the malignity of the negro and "perjured white," who so far have displayed nought but magnanimity. Second, if not held, and if the people do not come into Congressional measures, then "let all prepare for the storm in the best way they can; for confiscation, if it comes, will not come alone. All the dogs of war will be turned loose, and not an eye will be found to pity those who will not pity themselves. This is absolutely inviting confiscation." This very writer goes on to say that the Southern people have been stripped of everything except their lands. He says the whites have lost everything, and the freedmen have gained everything. He then says: "The present condition of things as to the lands is what renders tolerable the other great sacrifices which have been consented to. There was a tacit arrangement, so felt and so understood, that no further sacrifices would be required." Again, "confiscation would be felt to be a violent outrage, and would drive to desperation those who had put their lands left to them. There are extremities in which life loses its value, and death would be accepted as the most fortunate condition of the two." The writer then proceeds to remonstrate with the victims, that they were not sufficiently humble and pliant to appease the oppressors' wrath. Ye lambs, why will you muddy the streams from which your masters, the wolves, drink. This C. W. Dudley, however, has an inkling that even the patient, long-suffering, oppressed, down trodden Southerners may be pushed to that extremity when death becomes preferable to life. We will tell this Southern gentleman that if that time has not come to all, it has come to numbers at the South, who see the degradation of her people more sorely than he seems to do, and say to him that threats of confiscation may be a very good "bugga boo" to timid time servers. But that threatening is one thing and carrying out the threat is another. There are a few men left in the South still, and although they are in a terribly prostrate condition, they do not subscribe to the slavish theory that the conquerors have absolute control over the life and property of the vanquished; and the Radicals North and South will find, when they attempt to execute their programme of confiscation and negro supremacy, that there are men enough left in the country to make the task rather difficult of execution.

There is a settled conviction among the Southern people that the only remedy against Radical aggression and oppression is the sword, and to that complexion it will come at last. There is no animal so timid that, if driven into a corner, will not fight. C. W. Dudley and his Northern Radical allies, before they push matters much further, had better inquire, and look that they do not drive the South into that corner, or, as C. W. Dudley expresses it, into those extremities in which life loses its value, and death would be accepted as the more fortunate of the two.

Stripped, disarmed, starved, suffering as she did in the late contest, unprepared as she is for another, we say to these Radical hellhounds, as Mr. C. W. Dudley says, there are extremities in which life loses its value, and although the Southern light may be quenched in blood, the North will not escape unscathed. I express my firm conviction that an attempt at confiscation or negro supremacy will lead to trouble that will tax every energy of the Radicals to subdue. In 1860 they would not believe that the South was in earnest, so now they think they can kick the Southern corpse as often as they please. When they have kicked her once too often, they may change their opinion. Patiently have the Southern people endured every injury, indignity and evil that Radical malice and cowardice could heap upon them, looking for that subsidence of passion and sectional hate which they were told would come. But they look in vain.

Had the men in the Southern armies, at the time of the surrender, foreseen the treachery and bad faith to which they were to fall victims, thousands who escaped from the armies at the time would never have laid down their arms.

The writer knows this to be a fact, being a member of Johnston's army but not being present at the surrender, he conversed with numbers who escaped the surrender for the purpose of continuing the contest, but were advised by their superior officers "to come in and be paroled. That honorable terms would be granted, that the Southern States would take their accustomed place in the Union, and war would cease." And upon this assurance, and only this, thousands came in and went peacefully to their homes, where they have never ceased to suffer every indignity that malice and cowardice could put upon them. We say to our oppressors, for God's sake forbear and do not drive us on to desperation and into a contest that our very hearts shudder at. We are all unprepared for any contest. Our famine stricken condition, our being disarmed, the presence of the negro, our past sufferings, our present humiliation—all appeal to us as a people to bear as long as possible. If you will not be warned by a rebel, yet hear what the Unionist, C. W. Dudley, says, that you may drive the Southern people to those extremities in which life ceases to be of value. More than this, you may force them to the choice whether they will be slaughtered like sheep or like men. Be assured they will choose the latter, and when they strike for life, like their fathers, they will strike for independence.

AN UNRECONSTRUCTED REBEL.

ALABAMA ITEMS.

John L. Charles, an old and respected citizen of Hale county, died recently, aged fifty-five years.

In Wilcox the Radical vote was 2950, and the Conservative 350. It appears to have been a full vote, as there are only 3,308 registered.

A fire was raging last week in the pine woods, near Center, Cherokee county, and the Cherokee Advertiser learns that several lives have been lost in consequence.

The Union Springs Times chases John Hardy through a column of falsehoods on the subject of the attempt of Andrews to kill Keffer. Labor lost; it does not hurt Hardy a bit.

We learn from the Clayton Banner that in Barbour, as in Russell and Montgomery, many negroes went to the polls armed with guns. In Clayton, three of their number were accidentally shot by the careless handling of firearms, and it was said that one of them was mortally wounded.

In Pike county the Conservative ticket received from 839 to 850 votes, the Radical ticket 584 to 613; besides which 18 Radicals voted for another man instead of the colored candidate. The vote for convention was 619, against 1,839. Pike and Bullock elected four delegates.

Mr. Gustavus Horton, Mayor of Mobile, is advertised to call personally or by proxy at the Times office, and take his receipt for the three dollars out of which he robbed that paper. At a late meeting of the Board of Managers of the Times, it was determined to contribute that amount, through him, to the monument raised by the Radicals in honor of the King of Dahomey.

The Hayneville Chronicle gives an account of an affair which occurred last week at a Radical meeting there. The Sheriff discovered in a crowd a negro man for whom he had a writ of arrest on indictment, and procuring assistance arrested him. A great tumult arose among the 3,000 negroes, mostly armed, who were present, with cries of "fall in line men, there is business to be settled here to-day," "the thing has commenced, Mr. Stanwood," (the name of a Boston Radical who had addressed them) etc. The Sheriff and the Town Marshal, with two pistols—the only weapons exhibited by white men—kept the cowardly crowd at bay and lodged the prisoner in jail. Some assistance was rendered at the most critical period by unarmed citizens of Hayneville, white and black.

Colonel D. C. Glenn, one of the ablest men in Mississippi, who came out originally in favor of reconstruction under the military auspices, has recently returned from a trip North and publishes a withdrawal of his former views. He says the amendment to the S. S. Bills had nearly upset him before he left home, but that his experience and observations North have sent him home cured of all favor for reconstruction, and upon calm and deliberate reflection he is now satisfied that the South ought to have nothing to do with the political-judicial military medley and farce now being enacted in her midst, and to do nothing directly or indirectly which hereafter may be cited against her, or may be pleaded as an "estoppel on her." He admits fairly a change in his opinions, but at a period like this believes that no man should hesitate to avow an honest change without regard to any charge of inconsistency when the change is based upon solid reasons and satisfactory information.

A man in Boston already wants to pre-empt a seat in Boston Music Hall during the next course of readings.

Notice to the Public.

IN retiring from the Drug business in this city we would give notice that we have sold our entire Stock, together with the Fixtures, Lease, etc., of the well known stand, No. 328 Main street, to Dr. R. W. ADAMS & CO., to whom we were formerly successors; and after returning our heartfelt thanks to our numerous and esteemed friends, who have so liberally favored us during our continuation of business, we solicit for our successors a continuance of the same. As to the character and qualifications of our worthy successors in this branch of trade, their reputation is too well and favorably known in this city and throughout the country generally for us to be able in anything we might here state to add thereto. Suffice it to say they are of long and tried experience in this branch of business, and therefore I most cordially recommend a continuation of our patronage with them.

JOHN A. NIPGEN.

The unsettled business of NIPGEN & REAKERT and JOHN A. NIPGEN will be settled by either of the old partners at the old stand.

JOHN A. NIPGEN.
NIPGEN & REAKERT.

To the Public.

In having made the above purchase and resumed business at the old and well known stand, No. 328 Main street, where we have so often met our friends of long years of association and adversity most cordially do we tender to them and patrons our thanks for their liberal patronage of the past, and would, therefore, hold out special inducements, to both Wholesale and Retail Dealers in the city and country, to give us a call, examine and price our Stock before purchasing elsewhere, for we are determined, by our close vigilance of the markets of this and Northern countries, as well as with sound, practical judgment in making our purchases, so as to be able, with the choice quality of our Stock and the low prices we will offer them at, to be able to vie with any, and even defy competition. Anxiously hoping, therefore, that these propositions for us mutual to make good to the latter all we have proposed, will meet with the hearty concurrence of our old friends and patrons and the community generally. We are very respectfully yours etc.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGILMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy, in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and pimples. Dandruff is removed from the head, the teeth whitened and cleaned, plate and jewelry cleaned, stains effectually removed from carpets, furniture, clothes, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It gives a degree of whiteness which will vanish thereafter with the ease of cotton or linen without fulling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin or the most delicate fabric. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap of equal value, or one containing valuable properties, and which is so innocuous and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has become a necessity in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the country, and eventually will extend over the Yankee States North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica Manufactured solely by P. McGILMSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can soon be found in any respectable family grocery or drug store. The purchaser is described that no manufactures shall ever pass with the supply extending demand for its use

King's Patent Wrought Iron Tubular Arch Bridges

HAVE been in use throughout the Northern States for the last five years, and are superseding all other kinds for Turnpikes, County Roads and Railroads.

Hundreds have been built and put up, and, without a single exception, have fulfilled every condition, and stood every test as that of a good bridge.

Being constructed wholly of Wrought Iron, upon a plan combining in the greatest degree Economy, Durability and Strength, they cannot fail to recommend themselves to practical men.

The undersigned having secured the Sole Right to manufacture and put up these bridges in the States of Kentucky, Missouri, and the Southern States, is prepared to furnish them promptly.

SECOND DRAWING OF THE
SOUTHERN ASYLUM LAND CO.
TO BE HELD
AT HERNANDO, MISS, AUGUST, 1867

THE FIRST DRAWING, which took place at Hernando Miss., on the 15th instant, was attended with unusual success, when it is remembered that but a few weeks elapsed from the inception of the enterprise to that event. Seventeen thousand dollars worth of tickets having been sold, a like amount of property was drawn for, under the supervision of gentlemen selected by the ticket holders present. The utmost harmony and good feeling pervaded those present, and, as will be seen from the subjoined certificate of the managers, the affair was conducted to a close in a most gratifying and satisfactory manner:

HERNANDO, MISS., June 15, 1867.

We hereby certify, that the above report of he first drawing of the Southern Asylum is correct, and that the proceedings were characterized by a spirit of fairness and liberality not surpassed by any drawing of which we have any knowledge. The management in disposing of the drawn and wheels under our sole management and control.

(Signed)

J. R. MORGAN,
W. W. CAMPTON,
ROBERT TEMPLE,
M. M. GREWEY,
V. A. MERRIWETHER,
JOHN AINSLIE,
Committee.
J. M. HALL, Clerk.

The prizes drawn on this occasion numbered forty-seven, and comprised less in the vicinity of Memphis, Tenn., Corinth, Miss., and Hernando, Miss., deeds to which have been made to the lucky ticket holders. For this, the second drawing, however, we are able to offer our patrons still more attractive inducements to interest themselves in our scheme. From a greatly list of property, much of which has already been advertised to the public, we select the following as our Trustee's Sale.

BY virtue of a trust deed, made by William H. Gibler, to the undersigned, Trustee, which is duly recorded in the Register's office of Shelby county, Tennessee, on the 29th day of May, 1867, in book No. 40, pages 175, 176 and 177, and by virtue of a decree of the Chancery Court of Memphis, the property in said deed of trust described, will, on Tuesday, the 29th day of October, 1867, before the court house door, in the city of Memphis, proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash, the property in said deed conveyed and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northeast corner of lot No. 15, in subdivision C, in the partition of the estate of A. R. Carr, at a stake in the Pigeon Roost road, north 16 degrees, east 84 links from a poplar marked L, and thence south 30 chains to link at a stake, south 2 degrees, west 151 links from a poplar marked H, thence north 66 degrees, west 2 chains to the Pigeon Roost road, thence north 24½ degrees, east with said road 7 chains 79½ links to the beginning, containing one and one-half acres, more or less. The above metes and bounds are taken so far as they follow the original lines from the plan of subdivision C of A. R. Carr's estate, and is a portion of the land described in the deed of J. P. Carruthers to Samuel Mansfield, recorded in Deed Book 27, page 320, etc., and described in the deed from Samuel Mansfield, Mary R. Mansfield and F. W. Robertson to H. A. Montgomery, in book 34, page 101, etc., embracing a splendid residence, known as the "Mansfield Place."

TERMS—Cash. Title believed to be good, but I convey only as trustee. The equity of redemption is waived.
